Take Charge America Donates $1,000 to Elementary School in Phoenix

To award and recognize the goodwill of local students and celebrate Financial Literacy Month, Take Charge America recently donated $1,000 to the Washington Elementary School District in Phoenix.

The monies were used to fund a celebration culminating a district-wide food drive for community members in need. CEO David Richardson presented the check March 26 to Jill Hicks.

“It warmed our hearts to hear of the students’ efforts that directly impact citizens in our very own backyard,” he said. “We’re honored to support community organizations and schools that make selfless efforts to assist others in need financially, emotionally and socially.”
